The contractor shall identify & examine three alternative route alignments and suggest to the Employer the optimal route alignment between the terminal points.

2.2 Requirement of Transmission Line Routing

2.2.1 The alignment of the transmission line shall be most economical from the point of view of construction (i.e. supply, erection and commissioning) and maintenance.

2.2.2 The line routing should avoid large habitations, densely populated areas, scheduled areas, forest/national park/wildlife infringement/GIB/Animal/Bird Sanctuary, infringement of endangered species habitat, vicinity to civil and defense Airports, major river/sea crossings & coal/ mineral mining areas, oil pipe line/underground pipe line/land slide prone areas, firing range, coastal regulation zones, inflammable pipe lines etc. to the extent possible. The details such as legends, project description, direction marker etc. shall be with white background.
- 2.2.21 Wind Zone map of NBC-2016 and amendment thereof and if data available, from local metrological department is to be referred for identifying wind zone of the terrain through which the line traverses. Wind zone of every section (between consecutive angle points) of the line is to be indicated in the final report. Further, for transmission line sections passing within a distance of 50 km from the boundary of two wind zones (indicated in NBC map), higher of the two wind zones shall be considered for such sections.

The maximum length of a section shall not exceed 15 spans or 5 Km in plain terrain and 10 spans or 3 km in hilly terrain. Further, in case of line traversing through cyclone prone area i.e. areas up to 60 km from coast, the maximum length of a section shall not exceed 10 spans or 3 km, in order to reduce the failure of such towers in coastal areas due to cascading effect. A section point shall comprise of tension point with DB/B type or DC/C type or DD/D type towers as applicable. The normal span shall be considered as 350 m for 220 kV, 400 m for 400 kV lines and 400m for 765 kV lines. Similarly, normal span for monopoles may be considered as 150m – 200m (angle pole / pole structures) and 250m (tangent pole / pole structures) for 765 kV and 400kV respectively, 300m-350m for 220kV. Right of Way shall be as per statutory guidelines.

b) Railway Crossings

All the railway crossings enroute the transmission line shall be identified by the Contractor. The crossings shall be supported on DD/D type towers on either side. The crossing span will be limited to 300 meters. The crossing shall normally be at right angle to the railway track. No crossing shall be located over a booster transformer, traction switching station, traction sub-station, Overlap Section or a track cabin location in an electrified area. Clearance between the overhead line and railway track shall be in accordance with the Regulations for Power Line Crossings of Railway Tracks laid down by the Railway Authorities.

c) National Expressway/ National Highway/State Highway Crossings

All the highway crossings enroute the transmission line shall be identified by the Surveyor. Information about the planned/announced/notified highways should also be gathered. The crossing shall be supported on DD/D type towers on both sides of the crossing. The crossing span will be limited to 300 meters. The crossing shall normally be at a right angle to the highways.

d) Sea/River/canal/lake/Crossings

Suitable type of suspension/tension tower shall be used for crossings. Navigable or non-navigable river is to be identified. For non-navigable river, clearance shall be reckoned with respect to highest flood level (HFL). HFL and distance of the nearest recorded HFL point from the river crossing to be provided. Span and name of the river to be provided. For lake, reservoir, canal, & large water body crossing, crossing span to be provided along with Full Reservoir Level (FRL) wherever applicable. For line passing/crossing through sea, High tide level (HTL) to be provided.

e) Power line Crossings

For power line crossing following points shall also be applicable: -

- i) For power line crossing of 400 kV or above voltage level, large angle & dead end towers (i.e. D/DD/QD) shall be used on either side of power line crossing.
- ii) For power line crossing of 132 kV and 220 kV (or 230 kV) voltage level, angle towers (B/C/D/DB/DC/DD/QB/QC/QD) shall be used on either side of power line crossing depending upon the merit of the prevailing site condition and line deviation requirement.
- iii) For power line crossing of 66 kV and below voltage level, suspension/tension towers shall be provided on either side of power line crossing depending upon the merit of the prevailing site condition and line deviation requirement.

f) Telecommunication Line Crossings

The angle of crossing shall be as near to 90 degree as possible. However, deviation to the extent of 30 degree may be permitted under exceptionally difficult situations.

g) Crossing of wildlife/ eco sensitive zones

- i) During the survey work of transmission lines (up to 400 kV level) which are passing through wildlife/ eco sensitive zones, the possibility of stringing the transmission line on available transmission corridor (i.e. vacant circuits) of existing multi circuit transmission lines, if any, traversing through the same wildlife/eco sensitive zone shall be explored by the surveyor and the coordinates of these existing transmission line towers shall be provided in the report. The details of route considering these multi circuit transmission towers for the wildlife/eco sensitive area shall be included as an alternative in the survey report.
- ii) For the transmission lines up to 400 kV level which are passing through wildlife/ eco sensitive zones, the survey work for towers located in such sections shall be done considering Multi-circuit (4 circuits) configuration of same voltage level. The top cross arms of these multi-circuit towers shall be used for stringing initially & the balance cross arms shall be made available for stringing of any future transmission line (inter-state or Inter-state) passing through the same wildlife/ eco sensitive zone.

h) Crossing of Petroleum/Gas lines

- i) No tower footing/structure of an overhead line of voltage 33 kV or above/HVDC shall be closer than 25 meters from the edge of the Right of Way (ROW) of a Petroleum/National Gas Pipeline.
- ii) Wherever overhead line of voltage 33 kV or above/HVDC shall intend to cross the Right of Way (RoW) of Petroleum/natural Gas Pipeline, the angle of crossing of overhead line with respect to the pipelines shall preferably be right angles, but the crossing angle shall not be less than 75 degrees in any case.
